MEET TERRI: FOUNDER, PRESIDENT, AUTHOR, INSTRUCTOR

Terri, who as a little girl, sat in her room writing short stories, took a leap of faith in 2011. After graduating from North Carolina A&T and working for several Fortune 500 companies, she decided to pursue writing full-time.

Terri received her writing certification in 1998. This empowered her to publish five books in five years and earn a nomination as one of Georgia's top 50 up-and-coming authors. Later in life, upon hearing authors' horror stories of being burned by vanity publishers, she launched The Writer's Tablet Publishing Agency in 2012. And to honor the little girl who sat alone writing in her room, in 2018 Terri founded LIFT2Enrich, Inc., a 501c3 nonprofit organization that teaches creative writing to underserved youth.

Terri listens intently to each client and, using her out-of-the-box thinking and knowledge in the industry, elevates each project, making it better than the author could have imagined. Her specialty is developmental edits, focusing on plot, character development, imagery, and pacing. If she doesn't get chill bumps while reading the manuscript, it's not ready.
